

Rooms in the House Interactive Worksheet

Fill in this worksheet at the same time as watching the video on rooms in the house in English. Use the answer guide to check your answers.

Fill in the gaps with the room in the house.

Hello and welcome to my house. The skill at Virtually Fluent this week is rooms in the house, so come and take a look at my house and listen out for that key vocabulary.

This is my living room. In my living room, I watch TV and I read lots of books.

We also have a mini gym to do some exercise. This keeps us fit and healthy.

Next is my dining room. Here I have breakfast, lunch and dinner but at the moment my partner is working from home so it's also an office too.

Now we're in the kitchen and here I cook and wash the dishes. Come on outside!

This is my garden. Here, I sit in the sun and relax and sometimes we have a BBQ. We also have two rabbits, so there's lots of space for them to run around. Come back inside and we're going upstairs!

This is my bedroom. Here, I sleep, get changed and put my make-up on.

Welcome to my office. This is the most important room in the house because here, I teach all of my English classes and create my online courses.

This is the hall and it connects to the next room.

This is the bathroom. Here I have a shower and I brush my teeth.

We have one more room upstairs. This is our spare bedroom. When our friends and family visit us, they have a nice comfortable bed to sleep in at night. A

And those are all the rooms in my house. Let's quickly review that that vocabulary:

- living room
- gym
- dining room
- kitchen
- garden
- bedroom
- office
- bathroom
- spare bedroom

Thank you for watching my video. I hope you've learnt some new vocabulary. This is Hannah at Virtually Fluent, bringing English to life.
