

Working At A Restaurant

A person who serves the customers at a restaurant is either a waiter (male) or waitress (female).

A person who specialises in wine and recommends the wine is called a sommelier.

The person who makes and prepares the food in the kitchen is called the chef.

The person who carries plates around, washes them up and ensures the place looks clean is called a busboy (male) or a busgirl (female). They don't normally speak to the customers.
