

Conversation At Admissions

---

Receptionist: Hello! Welcome to the Virtually Fluent Museum!

Mark: Hello. What is the admission for one adult?

Receptionist: That's £15.00 for an adult ticket.

Mark: Could I get one adult ticket, please.

Receptionist: Of course. Is that for today?

Mark: Yes, please.

Receptionist: The exhibition is only open for another hour.

Mark: How long does it take to go around the exhibition?

Receptionist: You need 5 hours to walk around the whole site.

Mark: In which case, could I get the ticket for tomorrow instead?

Receptionist: Of course!

Mark: What are your opening hours tomorrow?

Receptionist: We're open 9am to 5pm. We're normally quite busy over the weekends, so you might be expected to queue for around 30 minutes.

Mark: Do you have any guided tours around the exhibition?

Receptionist: We do. They run every hour in English and we have one at 3pm in German.

Mark: Is that included in the admission cost?

Receptionist: No, that's an extra £5.00 for a guided you, so an adult ticket would be £20.00 with a guided tour.

Mark: Do you have an audio guide instead?

Receptionist: We do. That's included in the basic admission. Would you prefer that?

Mark: Yes, I'd prefer that, thank you. Do you have any special exhibitions going on tomorrow?

Receptionist: We do. We have a show in our 4D cinema that starts at 2pm tomorrow, also included in the ticket price.

Mark: And can I get an information booklet and a museum map, please.

Receptionist: Of course. That's a total of £15.00 please. Are you paying by card?

Mark: Yes. What do you recommend around this neighbourhood for this afternoon?

Receptionist: There's a great restaurant on ABC Street that's open all night. They do great food!

Mark: I'll try that out. Thank you so much for your help! Bye for now!