

Listening For Questions Answers

---

Listen to the audios very carefully then complete the table below.

Column 1: Write the question you hear.

Column 2: What type of question is this? Yes/no, WH-, tag, negative, echo, indirect or native.

Column 3: If it was a native question, rewrite it in the fully grammatical form.

Dialogue 1: At A Coffee Shop

|   | Question                             | Question Type           | Grammatical Form                        |
|---|--------------------------------------|-------------------------|-----------------------------------------|
| 1 | You trying something new today?      | Yes/No, informal/native | Are you trying something new today?     |
| 2 | Have you tried the seasonal flavour? | Yes/No, standard        | -                                       |
| 3 | Is it any good?                      | Yes/No, standard        | -                                       |
| 4 | You thinking about getting one too?  | Yes/No, informal/native | Are you thinking about getting one too? |
| 5 | You brought your book with you?      | Yes/No, informal/native | Did you bring your book with you?       |
| 6 | You want to borrow it later?         | Yes/No, informal/native | Do you want to borrow it later?         |

Dialogue 2: Making Weekend Plans

|   | Question                              | Question Type                | Grammatical Form                           |
|---|---------------------------------------|------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|
| 1 | Got any plans for the weekend?        | Yes/No, informal/native      | Do you have any plans for the weekend?     |
| 2 | You interested?                       | Yes/No, informal/native      | Are you interested?                        |
| 3 | Where were you thinking of going?     | Wh-                          | -                                          |
| 4 | You checked the trail conditions yet? | Yes/No, informal/native      | Have you checked the trail conditions yet? |
| 5 | Think it'll be too muddy?             | Yes/No, informal/native      | Do you think it will be too muddy?         |
| 6 | You got a backup plan?                | Yes/No, informal/native      | Do you have a backup plan?                 |
| 7 | Seen it recently?                     | Yes/No, informal/native/echo | Have you seen it recently?                 |
| 8 | You want to meet early or later?      | Yes/No, informal/native      | Do you want to meet early or later?        |

Dialogue 3: At A Bookstore

|   | Question                                    | Question Type           | Grammatical Form                            |
|---|---------------------------------------------|-------------------------|---------------------------------------------|
| 1 | Looking for anything in particular?         | Yes/No, informal/native | Are you looking for anything in particular? |
| 2 | You read the latest by Brown?               | Yes/No, informal/native | Have you read the latest one by Brown?      |
| 3 | Is it any good?                             | Yes/No, standard        | -                                           |
| 4 | You checked the bestsellers section?        | Yes/No, informal/native | Have you checked the bestsellers section?   |
| 5 | You want me to show you?                    | Yes/No, informal/native | Do you want me to show you?                 |
| 6 | Have you read anything else by this author? | Yes/No, standard        | -                                           |
| 7 | You bring a list of what you need?          | Yes/No, informal/native | Did you bring a list of what you need?      |