

Yesterday was my birthday and I had the most amazing day.

To start, I got to sleep in as it wasn't a school day so I got a really good night's sleep.

Following this, I went downstairs where my mum and dad had displayed all my presents and cards on the living room table.

At the same time, I noticed lots of decorations around the living room, like balloons, banners and confetti. It looked great.

All of a sudden, I was extremely excited and ran down the stairs, hugged mum and dad and started opening all these presents.

Later on, I had an amazing breakfast that mum prepared, which was delicious.

Out of the blue, my grandparents arrived at the house to say happy birthday to me. Mum and dad had organised this as a surprise for me, it was lovely.

Last of all, we went to the theme park and spent the day there all together.

In conclusion, it was a fabulous day!
